

HIGHER CURVE
LEARN CHANGE GROW

INFO DECK | JUNE 2020

So many of us
were caught unaware when COVID hit...

Stagnant for too long in outdated, industrial era mentalities, we scrambled to quickly
adapt to a fluid, ever changing environment
forcing us to stay at home and distance socially.

Why did we all rush online when forced with lockdown?

Was it for the love of technology?

NO!

It was because what is most important to us as humans was taken away...

...our deep desire to connect, learn,
grow & work together on a human level

How effective
have we been
at this quick adaptation?

..where managers & leaders
effortlessly nurture the wellbeing, growth and ingenuity of their people, who in turn are inspired
to rise to that challenge..

...took a hit,
however...

Those already immersed in continuous learning and dynamic environments...

...were sooner on the front foot than others and are powering through with people who are thriving...

Everyone else has done a stellar job...

...and we applaud the resilience & fortitude of the human spirit...

...but wellbeing, capability & productivity has taken a hit...

...yet it doesn't have to be this way

When the current crisis is over, the next one will quickly take its place...

WILL YOU STILL BE PLAYING CATCH UP?

WHAT OUR CLIENTS THINK

“Our organisation wide Education Strategy has been the cornerstone to implementing key workforce reform projects. This complex strategy has been crafted in a way that is quick and easy to convey and comprehend. It incorporates a keen eye for detail while maintaining a broad vision of the needs of a complex set of stakeholders.

We would happily have Higher Curve back again to work on our future projects.”

WHAT OUR CLIENTS THINK

“Gabby’s expertise in helping my team push themselves into uncomfortable spaces to experience new ways of thinking is evidenced in her Human Centred Curriculum.

It’s interactive and visual, it’s game-based and fun. It’s often unplugged so technology is put aside, and instead human interaction is brought to the forefront. It’s ideal for courageous humans who want to realise their full potential.

Highly recommend!”

WHAT OUR CLIENTS THINK

"It's amazing how much you can achieve when you put aside your constraining beliefs and open yourself up to new things.

Thanks to Gabby's facilitation and practice over perfection mindset, I've gone from this hybrid bunny/dog to a respectable poster in just a couple of 90-minute lessons.

In fact, by the program's end, the entire G2 team were able to produce incredible visuals for use in a variety of contexts.

Can't recommend this highly enough!"
